CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

30 Years of Humanity.

30 Years of Service.

A Future of Greater Responsibility.

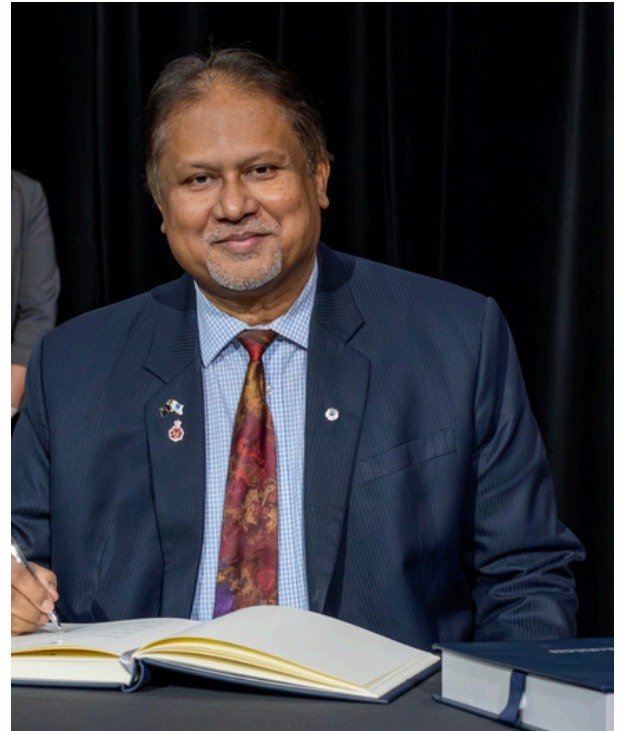

2025 marked a significant milestone for Humanity First as we commemorated 30 years of Humanity First International; three decades built on a simple but powerful principle: Humanity First.

What began in 1995 as a commitment to respond to human suffering has grown into an international humanitarian movement serving communities across the world. Over these 30 years, countless volunteers, donors, partners, and supporters have transformed compassion into action by providing food to families, clean water to communities, education to children, healthcare to those without access, support to orphans and refugees, and urgent assistance to people affected by disasters.

For Humanity First Canada, 2025 was a year to reflect on this remarkable journey while continuing to respond to the growing needs before us.

Throughout the year, our teams worked tirelessly across our humanitarian programs in Canada and internationally. We provided food assistance to thousands of individuals each month, supported refugees as they established new lives in Canada, delivered healthcare and vision-restoring services, cared for orphans, expanded access to clean water and education, supported seniors and vulnerable communities, and responded when disasters left families facing uncertainty and loss.

Yet, as we celebrate 30 years of progress, we must also recognize how much more remains to be done.

Around the world, millions continue to live without reliable access to food, clean water, healthcare, education, and safe shelter. Conflict and natural disasters continue to displace families. Here at home, the rising cost of living is pushing more households toward food banks and community support services. The scale of humanitarian need is changing, and our responsibility must grow with it.

The next chapter of Humanity First must be one of greater reach, stronger partnerships, sustainable solutions, and an even deeper commitment to serving those who need us most. Our accomplishments show what is possible when communities come together; the challenges ahead remind us why we cannot stop.

On behalf of Humanity First Canada, I extend my sincere gratitude to our volunteers, donors, partners, staff, supporters, and communities across Canada and around the world. Your trust and generosity allow Humanity First to continue turning compassion into meaningful action. The work continues. The need remains great.

And together, we remain committed to putting Humanity First.

With heartfelt appreciation,
